Dr. (Mrs.) Nisha Peshin
Director (Academics)

Sub: Compliance to Instructional Materials Designed by DAV Centre for Academic Excellence, DAVCMC

Dear Regional Director/Principal

It has come to our notice that a few DAV Schools are prescribing textbooks of private publishers right from Preparatory/Nursery to Class-VIII.

The practice of using textbooks at the Preparatory/Nursery stage is highly unappreciable when we at DAV Centre for Academic Excellence (DAVCAE), DAVCMC is continuously focussing on reducing the burden of a child under Early Education Development Programme (EEDP). Here also, we aim to make our children play and learn through activity based methodology only.

The formal reading and writing starts from the LKG stage and accordingly, we have designed our own textbooks for Classes-LKG to VIII based on the curriculum guidelines provided by the NCERT. The List of Publications for the current academic year is already available on our website www.davcae.net in for your ready reference.

Along with these text books, this office also encourages the schools to use the following inhouse designed instructional materials—

- Document titled 'Curriculum Areas & Activities' for Nursery Classes for teachers.
- Document titled 'Curriculum Guidelines' for Classes-LKG to V for teachers.
- Document titled 'Evaluation and Reporting Guidelines' for Classes-LKG to II for teachers.
- Educational Kit titled 'Child Craft' for Class-LKG and UKG.
- Audio CDs titled 'Rhythmic Rhymes' for Class-LKG/UKG (provided with Rhythmic Rhyme Book).
- Audio CDs titled 'Listen & Comprehend' for Classes-III to VIII (provided with My English Reader text books).
- Multimedia CD ROM 'e.wiz kid' for Class-I and II (provided with My Living World text books).

All the packages designed for Classes-Nursery to VIII are complete in themselves and help making the process of learning participative. It is, therefore, directed that no school shall burden the students by prescribing any additional text book/guide book.

This is for your information and strict compliance please.

With regards

Yours sincerely
