Background

Having made a history of being pioneer in imparting online teaching to the students of DAV institutions across India during the covid-19 pandemic by empowering and equipping DAV teachers with digital competencies, DAV Center for Academic Excellence now with renewed vigour is all geared up to take up the challenges of post pandemic era to bridge the covid-19 learning gaps in schools and address the post pandemic feeling of inertia towards offline system set in among teachers and students.

Since 2020, DAVCAE has been conducting online capacity building programmes for master trainers of all the subjects and review meeting for cluster heads and now after getting a gentle relief from norms of new variant(s) offline Induction Programme for newly appointed Principals was organized. Conferences for regional officers are also scheduled in June 2022.

World-wide robust exposure to online teaching, meetings, interactions and orientations etc. with students, parents, teachers and other stakeholders has tremendously enriched the already existing academic wealth of offline experiences of teachers, educators and trainers. Blend and wise use of both the resources is the need of the hour is felt by various stakeholders in the field of education.

As per DAVCAE’s training calendar annual conferences, orientation programmes and review meetings for regional officers, cluster heads and principals are organized to address the current educational concerns at national and regional levels. The deliberations, discussion and dialogues in conferences help the delegates gain a universal understanding of the concerns and attain pragmatic insights and knowledge to resolve them positively and constructively.
